CZAR GIVES AWAY PART OF FORTUNE

The War in the Far East Must Go On.

The Baltic Fleet Still Sailing—Bentley Deed of A Russian General.

DECORATIONS FOR HEROES

FIGHTING AT NEW CHWANG.
Tokio, Jan. 12.—The following has been received from Field Marshal Oyama's headquarters at Liao Yang: "Wednesday afternoon two thousand Russian Cavalry with guns attacked New Chwang. The Japanese were forced to retire temporarily, but when forced they attacked the Russians, and are still pursuing them. The Russians also attacked Ninkiatun, but were repulsed."

Czar Gives Away Fortune.
London, Jan. 13.—The Exchange Telegraph has a dispatch from Copenhagen which quotes a telegram from St. Petersburg asserting that Czar Nicholas has contributed a hundred million roubles from his private almost unprecedentedly on the third Russian squadron, and fifty million roubles for the equipment of the fourth.

The War Must Go On.
St. Petersburg, Jan. 13.—The government seemingly is about to make an irrevocable decision that prestige abroad and the situation at home necessitates a continuation of the war till peace with dignity is possible. Beyond this point, however, confusion exists, especially regarding immediate development of the interior situation.

The emperor is still apparently vacillating as to whether he shall allow M. Witte full sway. In the meantime declining to permit Mirsky to retire. The latter persists in the view that the confidence of the people in the manner in which the reform manifesto is to be worked out is vital, and that this is impossible if the work is to be left completely in the hands of the bureaucrats. Direct consultation with the representative classes interested he considers essential.

Captured British Steamer.
Tokio, Jan. 13.—The Japanese cruiser Tokiwa Wednesday captured in the Sea of Japan the British steamer Haseley, from Harry to Shanghai, loaded with coal consigned to Vladivostok.

To Strengthen Fleet.
Liverpool, Jan. 13.—A dispatch from Tokio says that the Japanese government intends to shortly strengthen its fleet by at least six battleships and first-class cruisers.

Second Division Sails.
Suez, Jan. 13.—The second division of the Russian Baltic fleet, under Admiral Rozhkovsky, which arrived yesterday, sailed south today and has probably gone to join the remainder of the fleet.

China to Build a Navy.
Liverpool, Jan. 13.—The Post hears that China is arranging, after the Russo-Japanese war to order the construction of a powerful fleet. Sir Robert Hart, director-general of the Chinese customs, has been ordered to husband the resources of the country so as to allow a large sum to be spent in this direction, making China a maritime power. It is stated that China aims to have twenty battleships and first-class cruisers.

Try to Cut Railway.
General Okus Headquarters in the Field, via Fusan, Jan. 13.—A small party of Russian cavalry near Hay-cheng, attempted to cut the railway, but were driven back by Japanese. No details have been received. It is the first time the Russians have attempted to use cavalry along the line of communications.

An Inhuman Russian.
St. Petersburg, Jan. 13.—News of almost unprecedented cruelty on the part of a Russian general has reached official circles. While a review of troops was in progress at Fiedosia, onlookers crowded in, hampering the drill. General Tschetyrkin, who was reviewing the troops, became enraged.

EXTREME PENALTY PAID BY J. W. BESS

Hanged in the Jail Yard at Lexington Today.

Strangled Mrs. Martha Martin to Death and Threw Her Body Into a Pond.

TWICE CONDEMNED TO DIE

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 13.—James W. Bess, was hanged in the jail yard here this morning for the murder of Mrs. Martha Martin.

A large crowd witnessed the execution. Bess made a speech to his old good-bye and died gamely.

He confessed to the death watch last night that he had intended to commit suicide with a knife blade which he had in his mouth, but decided not to do so.

Bess, who was once a prominent and popular contractor, was hanged for the murder of Mrs. Martha Martin, March 6, 1903. The crime was one of the most desperate in the recollection of the Lexington police.

Bess attempted to cover his tracks by sinking the body of the woman in a pond, and making away with her effects, so that should she be missed persons acquainted with her would think she had merely left the city.

Mrs. Martin had come into possession of about $5,000. Bess had neglected his business, and was in need of money. He had borrowed from Mrs. Martin until she refused to advance him more. On the night of the murder Bess hired a buggy, and took the woman out driving, making it a point to go to several places where they would be seen and recognized. He then took her to his room, where he strangled her to death.

Bess had left the buggy hitched to a post at the side entrance to the place, and after killing the woman he wrapped the body in bedquilt, carried it down the steps, through an alley, and dumped the lifeless form into the buggy. He then drove to the pond, and threw the body in the water. Bess busied himself the next day in disposing of and hiding the effects of the woman. It was three days later when the body was discovered in the pond, and fished out. The fact that one stocking was pulled down, and that the throat showed signs of choking, led the police to believe that a murder had been committed, and that robbery had been the motive.

Bess told such a straight story and building for himself such a complete alibi, that he was temporarily released. The grand jury returned an indictment and he was given a death sentence on April 1. His case was reversed, and the court of appeals reversed. He was again convicted, and was to have been hanged last May, and again the case was appealed. This time the sentence was affirmed, and Governor Beckham refused to commute it.

Bess has always stoutly maintained that he was innocent of the crime. He was born in Mason county, was 48 years old, and the father of five children. His eldest daughter was 15 on the day of his execution.

YOUNG MAN'S BODY FOUND IN WOODS

Jesse Green Killed by a Falling Tree in Ballard County.

His Foot Slipped As He Attempted to Get From Under the Heavy Weight.

A WELL-KNOWN YOUNG MAN.

The crushed and mangled body of Jesse Green, a well-known young man of Oscar, Ballard county, 15 miles from Paducah, was found about sunset yesterday by friends two miles from Oscar, under a big tree the unfortunate young man had chopped down. They had missed him when he failed to return home, and started out to search for him.

It seems the young man started out to hunt, and treed a "coon." He chopped down the tree, which, as it fell, caught in a sapling. He then chopped at the sapling, and as shown plainly by the evidences on the ground, as the sapling was cut and the weight of the tree crushed it, he attempted to escape but his feet slipped and he fell.

The tree fell across him and must have crushed his life out instantly. He had been dead some time when found, and it was impossible to determine whether death was instantaneous or he lay there for hours pinned down by the huge limb while life slowly ebbed away.

The deceased was about 24 years old, and was married about two months ago to Miss Jessie Thomas, who is prostrated by the tragic death of her young husband.

The inquest resulted in a verdict of accidental death, and the funeral took place this morning.

DEMOCRATS FIRED

GIVEN A DOSE OF THEIR OWN MEDICINE.

Unseated in the Colorado Legislature and May Appeal to the Supreme Court.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 13.—The senate yesterday by a party vote of 18 to 15 seated James H. Dick in place of Senator Robert M. Born. Dick was unseated by the democratic majority during the contest over the election of the United States senator two years ago.

Senator Born refused to give up his seat and was forcibly ejected by the sergeant-at-arms.

Senator Daniel Healy, who was seated two years ago in place of Jesse F. McDonald, now lieutenant governor, was also expelled by a vote of 18 to 15. Senator Horace T. De Long, a republican, protested against the action as unconstitutional. Democrats allege that two-thirds vote is necessary to expel members and may apply to the supreme court for redress.

In a statement on the floor of the senate, Senator Healy declared an attempt had been made to bribe him. He said that on Saturday, during a joint session, he was called into a private room and told if he would vote for the confirmation of Judge Goddard, he need have no fear of being unseated. The senate membership is now 20 republicans, 13 democrats, with two vacancies.

MUCH DAMAGE

Done By the Cold in the West Last Week.

Tepeka, Kas., Jan. 13.—From western Kansas comes reports of heavy losses of stock as a result of severe cold. Last night the weather was regarded as the coldest of the winter, below zero temperature being recorded in numerous counties.

Merchant Dies.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—William M. Thompson, a commission merchant of South Winter street, well known the country over by produce merchants, was found dead last night in his place of business by an employee. Death was caused by heart disease.

RISKS CANCELLED BECAUSE OF WIRING

Expert Inspector Taking a Look Through.

Says the Electrical Wiring in Paducah is the Worst Wiring He Ever Saw

WANTS A WIRE INSPECTOR

Mr. C. C. Taylor, of Chicago, an electrical expert and special agent for the Hartford Fire Insurance Co., of Connecticut, is in the city looking after the electric wiring, and says he finds it nearly criminally defective.

"I have never been in a city where the wiring is so bad as it is here," he declared, "and when I approached an electrician, who does work here, he informed me that the wiring I wanted done on my risks was impossible in the time I gave him, and I have had to cancel many risks where the wiring is defective. I made a careful inspection of the wiring in the buildings and on the street and I declare it is so bad that unless repaired my company will carry no risks here whatever."

Mr. Taylor wanted all the wiring done over where he considered it defective, on the risks held by his companies.

"The situation is really bad," he continued, "on your streets I find street light wires, telephone and telegraph wires and city fire alarm wires all on the same pole which is about as dangerous as you could wire a town. I have drawn up an ordinance which I presented to the mayor with the request that he place it before the boards, with the view of relieving the situation. The ordinance provides for the office of wire inspector, an officer employed by the city with police powers. This is the only way that you will ever get your wiring done right. I have the assurance of the mayor that he will do all he can to have the ordinance passed. It is not for the benefit of the insurance companies alone, but for the benefit of the public at large, because if the wiring is not better, my company will not be alone in cancelling, for other companies will follow."

Mr. Taylor is not the only insurance special agent here today. Messrs. T. H. Smith, of Chicago, and J. P. Young, of Louisville, of the New York Underwriters, being here also to settle the Sowell mill fire. They are connected with fire insurance companies and are also looking over the situation.

It is a fact that the wiring in Paducah is generally bad—this being borne out by the reports of Inspector Gano of the Kentucky and Tennessee board of underwriters, who found wiring very bad and issued over a hundred notices for improvements in it. Mr. Gano's work was in buildings principally, but Mr. Taylor says that not only the buildings but the streets as well are badly wired.

WESTERN LEAGUE

Elects Officers and Cuts Out Lincoln and Pueblo.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 13.—The Western baseball league elected Norris O'Neill of San Francisco, president; C. H. Myrick, of Des Moines, vice president; George Tebeau, of Denver, W. A. Rourke, of Omaha, Joseph Cantillon, of Des Moines, directors.

The two non-playing clubs—Lincoln and Pueblo—were dropped, making the organization a regular six club league, composed of Omaha, St. Joseph, Des Moines, Sioux City, Denver and Colorado Springs.

TRIBES AT WAR.

The First Fighting Has Already Begun.

Calcutta, Jan. 13.—The Nawagal and Dir tribes have declared war against each other and fighting has begun. The Nawagals won the first engagement and captured the Dir Port.

Charleston, Ill.—Fire and water damaged the Frower block and the furniture and undertaking business of H. B. Bradley, causing a loss of $10,000; insurance, $8,000.

SECRETARY MORTON DETAILS HIS VIEWS

Thinks Federal Control of Railroads is Necessary.

Government Ownership of Railways, However, Would Be Fatal to the Industry.

MUST BE WISELY REGULATED.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Secretary of the Navy Morton, formerly vice-president of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company, is the author of an article on the railway rebate question in the Outlook. He in the outset expressly disclaims writing as the representative of President Roosevelt's administration, and says he speaks merely as one with somewhat extensive experience pertinent to an important subject. The secretary, in the article, says there are very few complaints against railroad rates per se in the United States, the chief trouble being with "the relation of rates as between markets."

He says there are as many rates that are too low as there are rates which a court would decide too high and that either class may be equally disastrous to communities. He expressed the opinion that federal supervision of railroads is necessary but adds that regulation and protection should go together.

He says that one of the three things following is sure to take place in the conduct of our railways.

Legalization of pools; unification of ownership, thereby delivering in time the entire railway ownership of the country into the hands of a few individuals or one syndicate; or government ownership.

In Mr. Morton's opinion government ownership would be the beginning of industrial and political chaos. He favors a continuance of the interstate commerce commission in substantially its present form.

He would have all transportation by rail considered interstate commerce and subject only to federal control.

"I would favor," he says, "the agitation and shaping of public opinion that would not tolerate such a thing as a preferential rate, and would make it equally disagreeable to grant or receive it. The president's message on this subject meets the views of all good citizens, whether engaged in railroading or shipping."

KILLED TWO.

Rapson Said Son and Daughter-in-Law Intended to Desert Him.

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 13.—William Rapson, a tenant on the farm of H. N. Higginbotham, called his son Herbert aged thirty, into the barn and shot him dead before he could raise a hand in his own defense. Then he called his son's wife. As she entered, ignorant of what had occurred, she too was shot down, dying immediately.

Then Rapson summoned Lewis Croughbar, a neighbor, and pointed to the two bodies and said he had killed them because they intended deserting him in his old age.

Then before Croughbar could interfere, Rapson shot himself dead.

KILLED WIFE.

Anton Walker, Mobile and Ohio Switchman, Commits Bloody Deed at Carbondale.

Carbondale, Ill., Jan. 13.—Anton Walker, for twenty years a switchman on the Mobile and Ohio railroad, shot and fatally injured his wife and then committed suicide. Walker was jealous, it is alleged, over the attention to his wife by a former Baptist preacher. Walker, it is said, had long planned the deed, having arranged all his financial affairs and having his insurance policies changed to be payable to his children.

PAINTFUL MISHAP.

Dr. Laflue Injured in Livingston County by a Fall.

Smithland, Ky., Jan. 13.—As the result of a fall, Dr. Fred G. Laflue, county physician of Livingston county, and one of the most prominent men in this section of the state, was severely injured. His left arm and shoulder were fractured and he received internal injuries.

MR. H. C. ALLISON FINALLY SUCCUMBS

Prominent Citizen Dies at 9:10 This Morning.

Was a Tobaccoist of Popularity—Mrs. Wilson Thompson Dies in Houston, Texas.

MRS. ALICE MARQUESS DEAD.

Mr. Henry Clay Allison, the tobaccoist, suffered a relapse last night and died at 9:10 o'clock this morning at his home, 829 Broadway from complications following erysipelas, after a 13-days illness. The news of his death was a shock to his many friends, because he had been improving after a severe siege, and was much better up to last night.

After the turn for the worse, dissolution was rapid, and Mr. Allison had breathed his last before many friends knew that he was anything except improving and soon to be out again.

In the death of Mr. Allison a popular man is lost. He was in his fifty-seventh year, and was born at Pryorsburg, Graves county. He grew to manhood in Graves county, and for eight years was in the tobacco business in Mayfield, coming to Paducah to locate twelve years ago. He was first president of the Western District Warehouse here and for many years prospered in his business.

Three years ago he was buyer for the Italian government in this section, and a short time ago again secured the contract for another three years.

Mr. Allison was first married to a Miss Pryor, who died ten years ago. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and three children, Mrs. Horace Man-kin, of Grahamville, by his first wife, and two little sons, aged 4 years and 19 months respectively, by his last wife. His widow was Miss Mary Emma Williams, of Paducah.

He also leaves an aged father, Mr. John W. Allison, in Graves county, who is very feeble and not long ago fell into the fire and was severely burned on the head.

He leaves a brother, Mr. Neal Allison, postmaster at Pryorsburg.

Mr. Allison was a man who stood high among countless friends, both in his business and social relations. He was honest, honorable and friendly, and had friends all over this part of Kentucky. Three years ago he was the republican nominee for mayor of Paducah, and made a good race. He has been prominent in all movements to better the condition of his home town, and his handsome residence on Broadway fully carried out his idea of beauty, comfort and utility.

Mr. Allison was once a wealthy man, but how large an estate he leaves is not known at present.

His brother arrived on the noon train from Pryorsburg to attend the funeral.

No funeral arrangements have yet been made, but it is thought the funeral will take place Sunday in the city, with burial at Oak Grove. Definite announcement will be made later.

Mrs. Wilson Thompson.
News of the death in Houston, Texas, last night, of Mrs. Wilson Thompson, one of Paducah's best known women, was received today by her son, Mr. James W. Thompson, of Paducah. Mrs. Thompson was one of the few remaining pioneer settlers of Paducah, and had lived here since 1833.

She left a few months ago for Houston to reside with her daughter, Mrs. Bertie Wilbur, and died of general debility.

The deceased was born in North Carolina and was 86 years old. She came to Paducah in 1833, and was wife of Mr. Wilson Thompson, one of the first settlers, and at one time quite a wealthy man. For many years he was a pillar in the First Baptist church, and during Forrest's raid he lost most of his property.

Out of a large family of children, only three are alive: Mr. James W. Thompson, of Paducah; Mrs. Bertie Wilbur, Houston, Texas; and Mrs. W. B. Hendricks, Cairo, Ill. She leaves a number of grandchildren, including Miss Emma Thompson, Paducah, and Lola and Wilson Wilbur, Houston, Texas.

The body will arrive in Paducah Sunday morning at 1:40 and the

SALTY CHARGES MADE BY IRVINE

Declares Court is "Packed" Against Him.

Says a Trial Under the Circumstances Would Be a Mere "Fiasco."

TRIED TO PREVENT A SCANDAL.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 13.—The board of inquiry appointed to consider the Talbot-Irvine controversy, which failed to take action on Tuesday because of a lack of a quorum, met again today at Reading, Pa. Dr. Irvine last night gave to the press a copy of a letter which he has sent to the board of inquiry. In it he says he is willing to waive the canonical restriction and have the proceedings open to the public. He intimates that three members are "committed to the fact of upholding Bishop Talbot, whatever the evidence may be."

"The gentlemen to whom I refer," says Irvine, "are Rev. Doctors Jones and Israel, and James M. Lambertson."

"Rev. Dr. Jones was a member of the standing committee of central Pennsylvania to whom Bishop Talbot brought false charges connected with the bishop and Mrs. Emma D. Elliott and his vote advised the bishop to proceed against me."

"Rev. Dr. Israel was one of three gentlemen appointed by Bishop Talbot to act for him as a committee of inquiry to receive both his and Mrs. Elliott's false charges. It was this same Dr. Israel who signed the defective presentment against me, and, finally, when he had failed to grind out witnesses to sustain all of his specifications in the ecclesiastical court, transgressed all precedent by going on the witness stand to give evidence against me, suppressing even points in my favor, so anxious did he seem to be that I might be convicted."

"James M. Lambertson served on the committee which, while not having given me an opportunity to present one particle of evidence, signed a report declaring the sentence of deposition delivered against me by Bishop Talbot was just."

"All this being so, may not the church world expect a similar fiasco to that of the one in Harrisburg when the faithful friends of Bishop Talbot of a like interesting history, perpetrated the scandal by voting against his being present?"

Irvine further says:

"I have done everything an innocent moral soul could do to save both Bishop Talbot, the diocese, and the church at large from scandal, but from first to last he has ignored all entreaties and reason in order to fulfill his promise to Mrs. Elliott to unfrock me for her."

THE COMMITTEES

CHAIRMAN GEO. O. INGRAM, OF THE COUNCIL, NAMES THEM.

Two Democrats and One Republican On Nearly Every One of Them.

President George O. Ingram, of the councilmanic board, has decided not to wait for the "deadlock" in the board of aldermen to be broken, to announce his committees, but will paddle his own canoe.

Councilman Ingram stated several days ago that he did not desire to be partisan, and did not want politics to figure in the board, and that he would be guided by what the presiding officer of the other board did.

The presiding officer of the other board has not been chosen, however, and it is not known what he will do when he is chosen.

The list is:

Finance—George Oehlschlaeger, Joe Riglesberger and John Rehkopf.

ARKANSAS' CLOWN.

Gov. Jeff Davis Gives a Performance in Confederate Uniform.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 13.—Governor Jefferson Davis was inaugurated for a third term. The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Joseph M. Hill. The governor then delivered his lengthy message before the joint session of the general assembly.

The governor wore his full Confederate uniform of gray, which attracted much comment. In his address he launched into a bitter attack on the negro race, declaring that they were not fit to be educated. He advocated the separation of school taxes devoting only the amount paid by the negroes themselves for negro schools. This would close up nine-tenths of the negro schools in the state.

ARBITRATION TREATIES.

Under Consideration By the President and Senator Cullom.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Consideration was given today by President Roosevelt and Senator Cullom of Illinois, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, to the arbitration treaties now pending before the senate. At the conclusion of the conference Senator Cullom said he hoped to be able to obtain favorable action on the treaties by the senate and was inclined to the opinion that they would be ratified without serious objection or amendment.

Steamboatmen Protest.

New York, Jan. 13.—A meeting of the executive committee of the national board of steam navigation was held today to approve a communication from the national board to Secretary Metcalf of the department of commerce and labor, protesting against the proposed new rules and regulations of steamboat inspection service and suggesting changes of modification. A committee was also appointed to represent the board at the hearing by Secretary Metcalf in Washington on January 16.

KENTUCKY GIRL

Will Graduate in Medicine in June and Become a Practitioner.

The Princeton Leader says: "Miss Cynthia Cunningham who left Sunday night for Louisville to resume her studies in the Louisville Medical College, is a pioneer girl of Western Kentucky in the study of surgery and medicine, as there are no other young ladies from this section taking a medical course and attending lectures before the Louisville college of medicine and surgery. Miss Cunningham is no rough and masculine-like girl or crank, but is a very delicate young lady in appearance, sprightly and graceful, quiet and unassuming and has many sweet home graces and accomplishments. It is her lofty idea of the use and responsibilities of the noble service and practice that appeals to her most, and the knowledge that she as a woman physician can take so many cases of a trying and delicate nature better than a man. She feels that a woman can attend and minister to her own sex, with all the intuitive knowledge of complicated situations. She will graduate next June and will return to Princeton to practice."

Miss Cunningham has a number of relatives in Paducah.

PA GOT HIM.

Telegraphed to Pittsburg and Had Elopers Arrested.

Pittsburg, Jan. 13.—John Cuneo, a young Yale student, son of a Chicago millionaire, with his bride of less than a day was taken from the New York and Chicago train in Pittsburg and placed in a cell in the police station while his wife was taken to a Pittsburg hotel by the police. Frank Cuneo, the father of the student, wired the Pittsburg police last night to arrest him on reaching Pittsburg; that he had eloped with Miss Florence Hill, daughter of the head of the Hill Publishing company of New York and Chicago.

The bride spent a fearful day in the Duquesne. Cuneo says there is trouble for some one and he will begin with his father, who he says, is only angry because he spent $250 which he gave him for Yale expenses for a wedding journey.

HOLDS TO OFFICE.

County Treasurer Has to Be Ousted By Supreme Court.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 13.—The supreme court has issued a writ oustering from office C. C. Miller, former treasurer of Itasca county, who has insisted on retaining the office despite the fact that the canvassing board had issued a certificate of election to A. A. Kremer. At the recent election Kremer, on the face of the returns, had a slight plurality. Miller instituted a contest, which increased Kremer's vote and a certificate of election was issued to him. Upon Miller's refusing to give up the office quo warranto proceedings were begun and today a writ of ouster was issued.

SAUNDERS A. FOWLER, Local Observer.
The Kentucky will go out tomorrow night for Tennessee river.

The Charleston is due in a few days out of Tennessee river.

The Margaret is due tomorrow or Sunday out of Tennessee with ties. The Charles Hook came from Pittsburg this morning and will tow ties in Cumberland river. She is a stout built boat, and one of the prettiest seen in these waters in some time.

The Russell Lord went into Tennessee river yesterday.

The Victor is due today or tomorrow out of Tennessee river.

The Penguin is doing harbor work looking after the barge of the Finney line.

The Wilford is due from Cumberland river with ties. She should have been in yesterday.

The Fannie Wallace is doing work at Tradewater mines at Caneyville and may remain there for several weeks longer.

The Dick Fowler cleared on time this morning for Cairo.

The Joe Fowler went to Evansville this morning.

The Duffy is due tomorrow from Tennessee river.

The Pavonia is due Sunday from Tennessee river with ties for the Ayer & Lord Co.

The Lydia is due from Tennessee river tomorrow.

The Harriet, of the Barrett line, is coming up from Cairo tonight to lay up at Duck's Nest for the winter.

The Charles Turner is at Joppa unloading ties.

The Henrietta will go into Tennessee river today.

The Nellie Willet is due from Louisville with barges for the Barrett line.

River men are jubilant over the prospects for a good stage of water as rises are reported in all rivers and the ice has thinned out considerably. There is no ice at all in the Tennessee and Cumberland where most of the tie boats are working and the tie business is affected but little by the ice.

The Little Clyde is here from Green river, preparing to enter the Tennessee river towing trade for Captain Hearty, of Nashville.

The Buckham will return to the upper Ohio today after a tow of corn.

Just as soon as the ice clears out of the Mississippi river the St. Louis and Tennessee river packet line will start the through packets from Tennessee river to St. Louis. There have been no boats now for many months.

CITY FINANCES.

The paramount question now before the legislative boards of Paducah is that of finance. Paducah is now a second class city, and the amount of revenue required to run a second class city is away out of proportion to the amount of taxes that can be raised on our total valuation and assessment without burdening the people. With property valued higher than it is, or a greater amount of property, Paducah could get along quite well, but the truth is, Paducah from a standpoint of results, at least, is most too large to be a third class city and too small to be a second class city.

We are a second class city, however, and must remain one. The additional expenses required to run the city since the change of class must be raised in some way, and the suggestions and statements given below are from the Lexington Herald to the people of Lexington. Lexington is a second class city, but is much larger than Paducah, and has vastly more property on which to collect taxes. Yet what would he good for Lexington, especially in the way of retrenchment, would be good for Paducah—if we could afford it. But to the Herald, here is what it says:

"The annual reports of the various city officials for the past year have been prepared and presented to the mayor and general council or will be within the next few days. The budget for the year will be made up this month, and the apportionment completed. It is well for these reports to be given the widest publicity, and for the citizens to make themselves familiar with every department of the city government. There is nothing which touches every citizen so closely as does the direct taxes levied for the expenditures of the city, county and state. The people will pay millions in indirect taxation, billions in the form of bounties to monopolies and not complain as much as they do about paying thousands in direct taxes. But the people of Lexington are willing to pay whatever tax is necessary for the maintenance of the schools, for an efficient and adequate police and fire department, for keeping the streets clean, and for the proper administration of the affairs of the city. . . . The statistics show that there are in attendance at the public schools in Lexington this year from fifteen to twenty per cent more scholars than there have ever been before; and yet they show a most deplorable state of affairs, in that by the school census that there are over ten thousand children of school age in Lexington and there is a total enrollment of less than forty-five hundred in the public schools. . . . We hope that the board of education will appoint at least two, and better still three, truancy officers, two for white children and one for negro children.

"The police force has been gradually increased for the past four or five years, and yet it is not large enough, and due to that fact is not as efficient as it should be. . . .

"As to the streets, it is a problem what is going to be the outcome of any given amount appropriated for the purpose of keeping them clean and repairing them. It has seemed practically impossible to keep the streets in Lexington, or for that matter, of any other city, clean and in good repair. One of the main difficulties is that a large number of the citizens think when they have swept out their stores or their homes and put their rubbish in the gutter, they have performed their full duty in keeping their own premises clean and do not realize the crime they have committed not only against their neighbors, but against themselves in scattering their trash in the public highway.

"The oiling of the streets has proved, in some respects, most beneficial. It has done away with the horrid clouds of dust which ruined clothes, furniture in the houses, the goods in the stores, and was the cause of a great deal of bronchial and throat trouble; and yet it has presented problems which require the careful consideration of those in whose charge it is. Oil should not be put on unless the streets are first well rolled and graded, and then rolled after it is applied, and a sprinkling of sand put on before there is any travel over them. If it is going to be done again, and there is no citizen of Lexington who does not hope and demand that it will be, it should be done correctly.

"Each block oiled should be shut off from travel while the oiling is being done and for at least twenty-four hours after it is done, and until that block is rolled and sprinkled with sand. The result of the oiling this past year, while beneficial during the summer, has resulted in the streets being muddier than they would have been had they been cleaned regularly during the summer. The oil concealed the fact that there was a large accumulation of dust on the streets, and now that the winter has come that dust makes mud. The streets this past year have been better than they have been for a number of years, and yet they have not been as clean, nor kept in as good repair as they should be.

"The question of light and water is one that affects every citizen, and with the growth of the city, with the building up of new territory, there is a constantly increasing demand for new lights and new fire hydrants that will call for increased expenditures. We believe it would be well for the city officials to have all of the reports showing the expenditure of money for the past year, published, and to outline in full their plans for the coming year. The way to retain the confidence of the public is to treat it with entire frankness, and have every matter, with an account of the expenditure of every dollar of the people's money, explained to them, that they may both see where their money goes, as well as the benefit of the expenditure of it."

WANT AN INVESTIGATION.

Now different are the Republicans of Missouri from the Democrats! A resolution in the legislature to investigate the campaign fund of the Republicans was promptly ly carried, and the Republicans not only are willing, but will insist on an investigation.

As to the Democrats, the Globe-Democrat says: "It has been the Democratic legislative policy for many years to table resolutions calling for investigation. That is not the Republican way. The Democrats in several successive legislatures voted down resolutions to examine the state books, in spite of their claim that they are in balance, and that the finances of the state have been well managed. But, some how, Democratic majorities in the legislature shrank from investigation in that quarter. How is it that they did not jump at the opportunity if they believed their own words? Charges of holes in the books were made specifically, and yet the Democratic majority voted down the resolution to have them examined by an impartial, bipartisan legislative committee. The Republicans of Missouri welcome investigation, but the representative Democrats of Missouri dodge it."

Yes, the Louisville Times deserves most of the credit for the special session of the legislature, and we hope, for the sake of this bright and popular paper, that it will not turn out to be discredited.

The charter, section 3113, says: "Said board of education shall determine for itself the qualifications and election of its members." The board of education of Paducah has done this.

BURNING THE VILLAGES!

Fierce Fighting Between the Kabyle Tribes Near Alenzer.

Tangier, Morocco, Jan. 13.—Fierce fighting is reported to have occurred between Kabyle tribes in the neighborhood of Alenzer, from whence burning villages are visible. Refugees report that many tribesmen have been killed or wounded. There are grave fears at Alenzer that the victors may attempt to sack that town.

DEADLY CROSSING.

Two Men Struck By a Train and Are Killed.

Dutton, Ont., Jan. 13.—D. C. McArthur and Archibald Carmichael, while driving over a grade crossing, were struck by a Michigan Central train and instantly killed.

13,000 Wounded Men.

Tokio, Jan. 13.—The Japanese achievement at Port Arthur is more remarkable in the light of further investigations. The original Russian strength is now estimated to have been almost 50,000 men. It is announced at the army headquarters that in addition to the prisoners already reported about 13,000 wounded combatants will eventually be brought to Japan. Gen. Nogai's headquarters staff at Port Arthur are at present devoting their energies to dispatching the prisoners to Japan, placing the wounded in hospitals and clearing the way for a thorough investigation of the spoils of war. Confused reports reach Tokio of the condition of the city buildings.

It was said today that Gen. Nogai will not return to Tokio at present. Sixteen survivors of the third detachment of Japanese who attempted to block the entrance of Port Arthur by sinking stone-laden steamers in the channel are expected to arrive at Sasebo today. The fate of their 70 companions is unknown.

Will Soon Be Back.

Mrs. G. B. Brantley received a message from her husband who is in a hospital at Kansas City, Mo., for treatment of a cancer, that he was operated on last week and will be able to return home in five or six weeks. Mr. Brantley is an employee of the L. C. and resides at 1110 Madison.

THE EXPENSES CUT AT CONFERENCE

Retrenchment Decided on by City Officials.

$280,000 Spent Last Year—Believed
$203,000 Will Run the City
This Year.

THE AMOUNTS APPORTIONED

Although the city of Paducah last year spent $288,000, about $240,000 of which was revenue and the remainder from the bond fund. It was decided last night at the conference between four Democratic and four Republican members of the general council and the mayor, that the city can get along this year on $203,000, if this is sufficient, with the revenue to be raised by licenses, etc., the city may be able to get along on a $1.65 tax rate.

The members holding the conference were: John Rehkopf, Louis Kolb, Joe Higglesberger, Lucien Durrett, Oscar Starks, Wm. Kraus, George Oehlschlaeger and E. E. Bell.

The appropriations were cut down as much as possible, and the above total cost of running the city will preclude the possibility of the board of works enlarging the light plant, or making any provision for street sweeping or sprinkling. The board asked for $25,000 for the light plant, and will get but $10,000. The members wanted $10,000 for running expenses and $15,000 for improvements.

The following table shows the amount of money apportioned for the respective departments, and the amount appropriated for the same departments last year. The total appropriation last year amounted to about $187,000, but more was collected and spent for many of the departments.

Department.	1905.
Streets	$17,500
Police department	26,000
Fire department	24,000
Electric plant	25,000
Water	11,500
City hall	1,500
Real estate	2,500
Oak Grove	2,500
Hospital, charity and pauper	6,000
Sanitary and pest house	3,000
General expenses	5,000
Contingent fund	1,515
Suits and costs	5,000
Interest	25,000
Floating debt	13,500
Sinking fund	8,000
Library	5,500
Department.	1904.
Streets	$16,500
Police	22,000

Fire department	17,500
Police department	23,000
Electric plant	11,500
Water	11,000
City hall	1,500
Real estate	3,500
Oak Grove	2,500
Hospital, charity and pauper	6,000
Sanitary and pest house	2,500
General expenses	4,600
Contingent fund	1,500
Suits and costs	1,000
Interest	17,000
Floating debt	9,000
Sinking fund	2,000
Library	3,500

It will be seen that the apportionments for this year are not only in many instances under what was actually spent for the same departments last year, but are less than the amounts appropriated last year. It is also observed that $5,000 is set aside for suits and costs, which is caused partly by the expense of the "chain gang" suits the city has on its hands by the wholesale, and which it has made no effort whatever to avoid.

It is the present intention of the city to establish an auxiliary fire station with three men in Mechanicsburg.

The agreement of the conference last night is not conclusive. Should the deadlock in the board of aldermen be broken at the next meeting, or soon, committees could be appointed and there would then be a joint finance committee, to which the apportionment could be referred. Should the above apportionment be satisfactory to them, they could report the ordinance as above outlined, and the two boards could then vote on the ordinance. The boards have to pass the apportionment ordinance as any other, however, hence the work done last night is only preliminary work.

It is impossible to determine what the tax rate will be until the supervisors of the city tax books have completed their work and it is known what the total valuation and assessment of property for taxation for city purposes amounts to.

RIVER ON RAMPAGE.

Crest of Rise Broke An Ice Gorge Near Frenchtown.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 13.—The Licking river went on a rampage when the crest of a rapid rise reached "The Rifles" above Frenchtown, and broke the ice gorge there. It came with a one foot crest rise, bringing the heavy ice off the farms above, but the precautions taken by those having barges and property afloat and on the edge of the stream at Covington and Newport, saved the crafts tied up where the river empties into the Ohio. The flood, however, did little damage.

Cockrell Nominated.

Jefferson City, Jan. 13.—At the democratic legislative caucus Senator Cockrell was nominated to succeed himself. The legislature is republican on joint ballot.

HART'S CHAIN.

Certain Habits Unconsciously Formed and Hard to Break.

An ingenious philosopher estimates that the amount of will power necessary to break a life-long habit would, if it could be transformed, lift a weight of many tons.

It sometimes requires a higher degree of heroism to break the chains of a pernicious habit than to lead a forlorn hope in a bloody battle. A lady writes from an Indiana town:

"From my earliest childhood I was a lover of coffee. Before I was out of my teens I was a miserable dyspeptic, suffering terribly at times with my stomach."

"I was convinced that it was coffee that was causing the trouble and yet I could not deny myself a cup for breakfast. At the age of 36 I was in very poor health, indeed. My sister told me I was in danger of becoming a coffee drunkard."

"But I never could give up drinking coffee for breakfast although it kept me constantly ill, until I tried Postum. I learned to make it properly according to directions, and now we can hardly do without Postum for breakfast, and cure nothing at all for coffee."

"I am no longer troubled with dyspepsia, do not have spells of suffering with my stomach that used to trouble me when I drank coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

FUNDS EXHAUSTED.

No New Rural Free Delivery Routes Will Be Established For a Time.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The funds available under the current appropriation for the establishment of rural free delivery postal service have been exhausted and the postoffice department expects to discontinue at the end of this week the establishment of new routes during the remainder of the present fiscal year, unless an emergency appropriation that has been asked for is provided by congress. There are about 4,000 applications for new rural free delivery routes that have not yet been examined into. The discontinuance will not affect rural service already in operation.

MANY COMING

JANUARY IS A RECORD BREAKER AT ELLIS ISLAND.

Over Fourteen Thousand Have Already Come In Since the New Year.

New York, Jan. 13.—Official records at Ellis Island show that for the first month of the new year, immigration to this country is likely to exceed all records.

From the first to the tenth of January arrivals number over 14,000. For the whole month of January, 1904, arrivals were only 19,000.

Deportations for the same period are also record-breaking. For the first ten days of the new year 478 persons have been deported from Ellis Island, against 70 for the same period of time in 1904.

Of the arrivals during this ten-day period 9,185 were Hebrews. Of the deportations 65 per cent were Hebrews.

Arrivals of Russian and Hungarian Hebrews in such large numbers is largely due to aversion to serving in the army in Russia. There are also two large Hebrew societies in Europe systematically organized to assist immigrants to come to this country. The large number of deportations is due to the fact that immigration officials have knowledge of these societies and are trying to break up the practice.

Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, L. L. D. Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm, which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." 25c, 50c and $1.00. TOWHEAD SUIT.

Mrs. McCormick Loses in Wickliffe Court.

Albuquerque, N. M.—A negro cook at Denling was shot by a posse for an attempted assault upon a white woman.

CATARH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

Catarh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, sickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure of this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanston, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drugstores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, this producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, Catarrh of Stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heart burn and bloating after meals.

Cured Lumbago.

A. B. Canman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with Lumbago at different times, and tried one physician after another; then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of former sufferers." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

FOUR CLUB LEAGUE PROPOSED BY CAIRO

It Would Make the Rivalry Keener all Around.

It Would Restrict the League to Paying Cities and Give Clubs a Better Chance at Each Other.

CAIRO IS IN FAVOR OF THE PLAN

Cairo fans, according to the Bulletin, are in favor of a four-club league this season, as it would shut out those towns that are non-supporting, and at the same time be better for the league because it would promote rivalry between the remaining cities, and bring the clubs together oftener. Says the Bulletin: "The suggestion that Cairo, Paducah, Vincennes and Owensboro form a four-club league, has taken like wild fire with the local fans, while all are unanimous in standing by the local association to sever all connection with the Kitty league if the constitution is not amended providing Clarksville, Hopkinsville and Henderson are members."

"The fans are heart and soul with the idea of a four-club league consisting of the four cities first mentioned under the constitution as it now stands. They reason rightly that a four-club league of these four good cities will cause each team to make a complete circuit of the league twice each month affording them an opportunity to become better acquainted with the individual members of the visiting teams."

"They also reason that the secret of attendance in a minor league is based upon rivalry existing among the teams and the oftener they meet the greater the rivalry. This is unquestionably true, particularly so when applied to Cairo and Paducah—the more frequent these two teams meet the greater the rivalry and larger the attendance. The same condition will exist as regards Vincennes and Owensboro, two cities almost geographically situated the same as Cairo and Paducah—and then there will be that great rivalry between the eastern end of the circuit and the western."

"There are many other features that are favorable to a four-club league one being the expense incurred both for scorers and umpires. In case one of the quartette falters and falls by the wayside its guarantee of $100 can be used in transporting the entire team to another adjacent city at either end and the money used as a subsidy for there is no city but what will take a team already assembled backed up by a $400 bonus."

"In any event Cairo refuses to longer assist in conjunction with Paducah and Vincennes in sustaining through a third year cities in which the fans have proved that they cannot or will not support their home teams."

THE N. C. & ST. L.

Head Declared a Dividend of Two and One-Half Per Cent.

The directors of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway company held their first quarterly meeting in 1905 in the office of President J. W. Thomas, at Nashville, and declared a semi-annual dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. An annual dividend of 5 per cent, more than last year's dividend. None of the New York members of the board attended the meeting, but there was a full attendance of the local members. Milton H. Smith, president of the Louisville & Nashville, was present.

The dividend declared is the largest in several years. The earnings of the road have been turned into the surplus fund for improvements up till last year, when the first dividend at 4 per cent, was declared.

A HOODOO DAY.

This is One of the Only Two in the Present Year.

This is Friday, January 13,—according to the superstitious a very bad combination, being both hangman's day and the 13th of the month.

The only other "hoodoo day" this year is in October. Last year there were several.

Today many of the superstitious have been unusually cautious.

"Dis am shorely a bad day and I ain't gwine ter get in no box car's way, I ain't," one big colored brakeman declared as he prepared a draw head for coupling and stepped back about fifteen feet from the rails. "Ise gwine ter give dese engines and cars all de room dey wants."

Many boys, realizing the possibilities of fun in working hoodoos on the superstitious are carrying rabbit foot about trying to rub them on people.

HARD FALL.

But Dr. Brooks Was Soon On His Feet Again Unhurt.

Dr. J. G. Brooks had a bad fall this morning on Jefferson street near Seventh, as a "Friday the 13th" souvenir, but fortunately escaped injury other than a few bruises.

He was going to the bedside of Mr. H. C. Allison and the snow had covered the pavements. Dr. Brooks struck a slick place and his feet slipped out from under him, precipitating him to the pavement. The fall was hard and Dr. Brooks received a severe jar, and a few bruises, but was not disabled.

Convict Who For 17 Years Refused Work, at Last Released.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 13.—Gov. Lamm has granted Henry Tomlin, a life term convict, an unconditional pardon. Tomlin is one of the most remarkable men who ever entered the Texas prison. When he began his sentence seventeen years ago he declared that he would die before he would do any work. He said that he owed the state nothing and that he was not going to pay the state anything.

When he refused to perform the task assigned to him he was punished in all the ways that the prison authorities could devise. For two years he was confined in the solitary cell and fed only that which was necessary to keep him alive, and times innumerable he was whipped, but through it all he refused to work. He was told that if he would but shell an ear of corn his pardon would be recommended. He refused.

In other respects he was a model prisoner. When the governor's pardon arrived at the prison, the keeper told Tomlin that his freedom was at hand if he would but work for ten minutes. He refused. The pardon was then handed him. He was overcome with joy. He says that he will go to work, now that his freedom is at hand.

Jack Chinn Now "Fores a Gun."

Harrodsburg, Ky., Jan. 13.—Col. Jack Chinn, the noted Kentucky turpentine and democratic nominee for state senator from this district, was placed under arrest here on a warrant charging him with breach of the peace and carrying a concealed weapon. Col. Chinn went into a saloon here last night, and mistaking James Renfro for another young man, began to abuse him, applying many vile epithets. Renfro struck at Chinn with his fist, with one hand in his hip pocket. Chinn struck Renfro several times and succeeded in pulling his hand from his pocket, and as he did so pulled a pistol with it. Chinn then whipped out a big revolver from his pocket, but bystanders interfered in time to prevent each from firing.

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

The women and children of Lexington were gathered around it. I saw at a glance that Silver Heels had given her a fright. A barefoot drummer, with a white hot crucifix and a valise of the glittering metal, or fed it with lumps of lead, stripped from the gatepost of Hooper's house in Danvers.

"Michael," said Silver Heels, "if the British are at Roxbury, we are quite out of it, are we not?"

I did not answer. Mount turned a grave, intelligent eye on me. Foxcroft came up, wiping the mud and sweat from his eyes.

A loud voice belted from the tavern: "Women here for the bullet wounds! Get your women to the tavern!"

Silver Heels caught my hand. "You see a maid may not stand idle in Lexington!" she said, with a breathless smile.

CHAPTER XIX.

SILVER HEELS stood in the taproom of Buckman's tavern drinking brandy. A barefoot drummer, with a white hot crucifix and a valise of the glittering metal, or fed it with lumps of lead, stripped from the gatepost of Hooper's house in Danvers.

Jack Mount and the Wensel lay curled up like giant eels at the door, blinking peacefully out through the cracks into the early sunshine.

A stiffness lay on the old tavern. The minutemen stood silently at the loopholes. A voice broke in from the pigeon loft above, "Is there a woman below to sew bandages?"

"Truly there is, sir," called back Silver Heels.

She started toward the stairway, then turned to look at me.

"My post is wherever you are," I said, stepping to her side. "There is a long war before us ere we find a home."

"I know," she said faintly.

"A long, long war; separation, sadness. Will you wed me before I go to join with Cream's men?"

"Aye," she said.

"There is a parson below, Silver Heels."

Her face went scarlet.

"Let it be now," I whispered.

She looked up into my eyes. I leaned over the landing rail and called out, "Send a man for the parson of Woburn!"

An Aton man stepped out on the tavern porch and shouted for the parson. Presently the good man came, in rusty black, shouldering a fowling piece, his pockets bulging with a Bible and Book of Common Prayer.

"Is there sickness here—or wounds?" he asked anxiously. Then he saw me above and came wheezing up the stairs.

"Heart sickness, sir," I said. "We be dying, both of us, for the heart's ease you may bring us through your holy office."

At length he understood, Silver Heels striving to keep her sweet eyes lifted when he spoke to her, and I quiet and determined, asking that he lose no time, for no man knew how long we few here in the tavern had to live. In the same breath I summoned a soldier from the south loophole in the garret and asked him to witness for me, and he took off his hat and stood sheepishly twirling it, rifle in hand.

And so we were wedded, there in the ancient garret, the pigeons coo-cooing overhead, the blue wasps buzzing up and down the window glass and our hands joined before the aged parson of Woburn town. I had the plain gold ring which I had bought in Albany for this purpose, nor dreamed to wed my sweetheart with it thus. And, oh, the sweetness in her lips and eyes when I drew it from the cord around my neck and placed it on her smooth finger at the word!

There was a pile of cotton cloth on the floor. Silver Heels sank down beside it and began to tear it into strips for sewing bandages.

I looked from the window, seeing nothing.

Presently the minuteman at the south loop spoke:

"A man riding this way—there—on the Concord road!"

Silver Heels on the floor worked steadily, ripping the snowy cotton.

"There is smoke yonder on the Concord road," said the minuteman.

"Look—look at the redcoats!"

"As I rose I heard plainly the long, rattling crash of musket firing, and the rattle of rifles followed like a hundred echoes."

"Look yonder!" he cried.

And now we could see feathery puffs of smoke from the roadside bushes, from distant hills, from thickets, from plowed fields, from the long, undulating stone walls which crossed the plain. Faster and faster came the musket volleys, but faster yet rang out the shots from our young men.

"The old tavern was ringing with voices now—commands of officers, calls from those who were posted above, clattering steps on the porch as the Aton men ran out to their posts behind the tufted willows in the swamp."

Fell into the village green rushed the British light infantry, dusty, exhausted, enraged. In brutal disorder they surged on. Here a squad huddled together, there a company, huddled, threatened and harangued by its officers, with pistols and drawn swords; now a group staggering past, bearing dead or wounded comrades, now a heavy cart loaded with knapsacks and muskets, driven by hatless soldiers.

Close on their heels tramped the grenadiers. Soldier after soldier staggered and fell from the ranks utterly exhausted, unable to rise from the grass.

The lull in the firing was broken by a loud discharge of musketry from Pike's hill, and presently more redcoats came rushing into the village, while at their very heels the Bedford alarm men shot at them and chased them. Everywhere our militia came swarming—from Sudbury, Westford, Lincoln, Acton; minutemen from Medford, from Stowe, from Beverly and from Lynn—and their ancient firelocks blazed from every stone wall, and their long rifles banged from the distant ridges.

Below me in the street I saw the British officers striving desperately to reform their men, while thicker and thicker pelted the bullets from the minutemen and militia.

It was not a retreat, not a flight; it was a riot, a horrible saturnalia of smoke and fire and awful sound. As a maddened panther, wounded, rushes forth to deal death right and left, even tearing its own flesh with tooth and claw, the British column burst south across the land, crazed with wounds, furnished, at last, blood and death.

Terrific was the vengeance that followed it, hovered on its gasping ranks, scattered its dwindling ranks, which withered under the searching fire from every tuft of bushes, every rock, every tree trunk.

I, with Mount and the Wensel, hung to their left flank till 2 o'clock, when, about half a mile from Lexington meeting house, we heard cannon and understood that the relief troops from Boston had come up.

Then, knowing that there were guns enough and to spare without ours, we shouldered our hot rifles and trudged back to Buckman's tavern through the dust behind a straw covered wall which was driving slowly under the heat of an almost vertical sun.

Mount, parched with thirst, halted the driver of the wagon, asking him if he carried cider.

"Only a wounded man," he said. "Most dead of the red dragons."

I stepped to the slowly moving wagon and looked over the tailboard down into the straw.

"Shemmel!" I cried.

"Shemmel!" roared Mount.

The little Jew opened his sick eyes under his bandage. The Wensel climbed nimbly over the tailboard and settled down beside the wounded man, taking his blood smeared band.

"Shemmel, Shemmel, we saw them split your head!" stammered Mount in his astonishment and joy.

"Under my hat I did have a capful of shillings," replied Shemmel weakly. "I—I go back—two days' time to find me my money by dot Lechewer swamp, eh, Jack?"

"God bless you!" cried Mount. "We will get your money, lad! Won't we, Cardigan?"

The little Jew turned his heavy eyes on me.

"You baf found Miss Warren?" he gasped. "Ach, so I do all well. I go back—two days' time—find me my money." He smiled and closed his eyes.

So we re-entered Lexington, Jack Mount, the Wensel, Sam Shemmel and I. And on the tavern steps Silver Heels stood, her tired, colorless face lighted up, her outstretched hands falling on my shoulders, and I to take her in my arms, for she had fallen a weeping.

In the south the thunder of the British cannon muttered, distant and more distant. The storm had passed.

And so we were wedded.

TAINTED BLOOD

Columbus, Ohio, May 19, 1901.

Some four years ago I was suffering from impure blood and a general run-down condition of the system. I had no appetite, was losing flesh, and had an all-gone tired feeling that made me miserable.

I began the use of S. S. S., and after taking seven or eight bottles my skin was cleared of all eruptions and took on a ruddy, healthy glow that assured me that my blood had been restored to its normal, healthy condition. My appetite was restored, as I could eat anything put before me, and as I regained my appetite I gained weight, and that "tired feeling" which worried me so much disappeared, and I was once again my old self.

I heartily recommend S. S. S. as the best blood purifier and tonic made, and strongly advise its use to all those in need of such medicine.

WHEELING, W. V., May 28, 1901.
My system was run down and my joints ached and pained me considerably. I had used S. S. S. before and knew what it was, so I purchased a bottle of it and have taken several bottles and the aches and pains are gone, my blood has been cleared and my general health built up. I can testify to it as a blood purifier and tonic.

Had the storm passed? The smoke hung in the north where Concord town was burning, yet around us birds sang.

And now came Jack Mount, riding postilion on the horses which drew the post chaise. Behind him trotted the Wensel, leading out Warlock. Silver Heels saw them and stood up, smiling through her tears.

"Truly we stayed and did our duty, did we not, dear heart?"

"With your help, sweet."

"And deserted not our own?"

"Yours the praise, dear soul!"

"And did face our enemies like true people all. Is it not so, Michael?"

"It is so."

"Then let us go, my husband. I am sick for my own land and for the happiness to come."

"Northward we journey, little sweet heart."

"To the blue hills and the sweet fern?"

"Aye, home."

And so we started for the north, out of the bloody village where our liberty was born at the first rifle shot, out of the sound of the British cannon, out of the land of the salt sea, back to the inland winds and the luscious of our own dear forests and the music of sweet waters tumbling where the white pines sing eternally.

I rode Warlock beside the chaise; Shemmel lay within; Silver Heels sat beside the poor, hurt creature, easing his fevered head, but her eyes ever returned to me, and the color came and went in her face as our eyes spoke in silence.

"Goodbye," said Foxcroft huskily. Mount squared himself in his saddle; the Wensel, rifle on thigh, set his horse's head north.

Weak Stomach.

A weak stomach is most frequently caused by the overworked and exhausted nervous system.

The power that runs the stomach is the nerve force sent to it from the brain through the nerves. When the nerves are weak or exhausted the supply of energy is insufficient and the action of the stomach is impaired, and results in imperfect digestion—dyspepsia.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine increases nerve force. It strengthens and builds up nerve tissue, gives vigor to the nerves and muscles of the stomach; this produces a healthy activity.

Nervine allays the inflammation, heals the membranes, and makes the stomach strong and healthy. There is nothing that so quickly gives energy to the whole system as Restorative Nervine.

"I can't say enough for Dr. Miles' Nervine. I don't know what it will do for others, but it certainly cured me of stomach trouble, and now I am as well as I ever was. Two physicians failed to relieve me, but in three or four days after taking Nervine I was much relieved. Four bottles made me a sound man, at the cost of $1.00."

GRAND LARCENY

Charged Against Lee Wolverton, Arrested Today.

Lee Wolverton, white, was arrested this morning for grand larceny and will be tried tomorrow in police court.

Wolverton is alleged to have stolen $71 in cash from a man named John Bell. When arrested Wolverton gave the police about $30 and said it was all he had, but a search revealed about $40 in his hat.

Several days ago a man applied at the city hall for a warrant against Wolverton saying he had given the latter a pocketbook to keep while he was sick and asleep and when it was returned was $10 short. No warrant was issued as there was no good evidence against Wolverton in the latter case.

Wolverton is the man who was written up a few days ago as having disappeared from his home in Marshall county. He has been here all the time he is supposed to have met with foul play.

Bride Known Here.

Union City, Tenn., Jan. 13.—Wednesday night at the residence of the bride's parents, Dr. P. B. Curdin, of Hickman, Ky., and Miss Heasie Scates, of this city, were united in marriage, Rev. W. J. McCoy officiating. Immediately after the ceremony the couple boarded a train for Louisville, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The bride is well known in Paducah, having several times visited Miss Hess Hall on North Fifth street.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Camden, N. J.—One of the largest buildings of the plant of Farr & Bailey Co., manufacturers of oil cloth and linoleum, which occupied an entire block, has been destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

El Paso, Tex.—Sandy Redd, sentenced to jail last month for insulting a young white woman, was released from jail and his lifeless body was later found in a pool of water on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande.

Augusta, Ark.—James Jackson was perhaps fatally shot by Emmet Chism, about 15 years old, while fooling with a target gun, in Haywood's gallery. Doctors think there is little chance for recovery.

Evansville, Ind.—John Gardner is under arrest, charged with having stabbed to death George Diefenbach, Jr.

THE TEACHERS

HAVE A PROBLEM IN THE WAY OF PROVIDING MORE HELP.

A New Teacher Will Be Necessary After January 30.

The teachers in the high school have quite a problem to work and are bothering a great deal about it.

The problem is how to handle the classes without an additional teacher when the new term opens the 30th of this month. Last year when the schools were reorganized, it might be said, and so many improvements made, the classes were divided into A and B divisions and one class arranged to be promoted at the middle of the term. The A class in the First grade would be promoted to the B in the Second grade and so on until the Eighth grade was reached.

This is the first year these changes take effect and there will be a general changeup in all grades. The A class in the Eighth grade will come into the Ninth grade B division just half a year behind the A division of Ninth grade. This means that about 45 pupils will be added to the high school, swelling the total to 180 pupils—the largest number in the high school in the history of the city.

At present the teachers have about all they can do and when the board is organized and down to business, will ask for another teacher. If the teacher is not supplied, the present corps will have to attend to the work and the problem is one which is causing the teachers no little worry.

Imperfect Digestion Means less nutrition and in consequence less vitality. When the liver fails to secrete bile, the blood becomes loaded with bilious properties, the digestion becomes impaired and the bowels constipated. Herbine will rectify this; it gives tone to the stomach, liver and kidneys, strengthens the appetite, clears and improves the complexion, infuses new life and vigor to the whole system. 50 cents a bottle. Sold by Dr. Boils, Kolb & Co.

THE BOOTLEGGERS

Have Begun to Get Busy in Counties Below.

Deputy U. S. Marshal George Saunders arrived yesterday afternoon from Murray with Lee Bingham, colored, charged with bootlegging in Murray and he was held over by Commissioner Armour Gardner to the federal court.

Since the decision invalidating the local option law in Marshall county was reversed, the bootleggers have begun to work again down in Calloway and Marshall counties, as the whiskey selling is now illegal and the deputy marshal will have a good field to work in.

CORRECTED DAILY

KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHS

Hall-Hazelrigg.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 13.—Thomas A. Hall and Miss Elizabeth Hazelrigg of Frankfort, Ky., came here and were married by the Rev. B. L. Powell, pastor of the First Christian church. The bride is the daughter of former Chief Justice of the Appellate Court James Hazelrigg. The illness of her mother prevented a home wedding and caused the party to come here for the ceremony.

Matter Settled.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 13.—It has been settled that Dr. T. H. Baker will be postmaster at Louisville for four years more and that R. D. Hill will be district attorney for another term. Both have served two terms already.

For a Third Term.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 13.—Congressman A. O. Sennely has announced that he will be a candidate for third term from the Second district though precedent has prescribed two terms as the limit.

Deaths in Calloway.

Murray, Jan. 13.—Mrs. Harriett Mayer, wife of J. V. Mayer, bookkeeper in the Bank of Murray, died in West Murray, Tuesday. Mrs. Mayer leaves besides a husband, six children, one of which is an infant, but three weeks old.

Mrs. Emma A. McKeel, wife of J. W. McKeel, of Goldwater, died of rheumatism. She was born May 3, 1850, and leaves a husband and four children, Lawrence, Tilden, Alice and Cora.

Died From Scratch.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 13.—Richard H. Medcalf, county supervisor of roads, died of blood poisoning. He fell on the ice Sunday morning and scratched his hand, from which blood poisoning set in. He was prominent as a citizen and in court politics.

IN THE COURTS

To Sue For Property.

Attorney L. K. Taylor, of Paducah, will go to Helena, Ark., in a few days to bring suit for Mrs. Turner Anderson, of Paducah, to recover a valuable piece of property now worth about $75,000, and on which there are a number of business houses. It seems that the laws of Arkansas give a widow only a life-time interest in property left by her husband, and the property claimed by Mrs. Anderson was left by her father, and through mistake sold outright years ago by her mother, who had no right to the property except her lifetime interest. The deed is thus defective it is claimed, and Mrs. Anderson, as one of the heirs, will attempt to recover the property.

Local Option Cases.

J. T. Jenkins was yesterday before Judge Fisher, in the county court at Henton, Ky., tried for violation of the liquor laws and fined $60. This was one of the cases growing out of the local option decision while Attorney J. C. Flournoy was special judge, every court that has since passed on the case having taken a different view of it. There are a dozen or more warrants against Jenkins and a number against R. H. Marshall and Lee Wicker, who also have a saloon at Gilbertsville. These men, or others for whom they work, presuming the Flournoy decision knocking out local option was right, proceeded to open saloons at Gilbertsville, and the prosecution followed. The Jenkins case will now be taken to the circuit court, and from there taken to the court of appeals.

Police Court.

Joe Cannon, colored, who cut Mary Belle Martin, colored, twice in the back Sunday, was held over this morning in police court. He waived examination and was committed to jail in default of bond.

Ed. Holland and Fannie Ruff, colored, charged with using profane language, were arraigned and the woman fined $5 and costs. The case as to Holland was continued.

Jim Welch, white, for using insulting language, was fined $5 and costs.

Charles Bates, colored, for a breach of the peace, was fined $5 and costs. Russell Hughes, white, was fined $5 and costs for a breach of the peace.

Must Pay Costs, Also.

The trunks of the Ezra Kendall Co. are still being held here pending the settlement of the attachment suit in Justice Barber's court.

The company sent a check for the value of the lunch sent out which the members of the company at first refused to pay for, but no court costs were sent and the trunks are still held. The only way the attachment will be discharged is by the payment of the costs in court.

Circuit Court.

This morning at 9 o'clock the case of W. H. Bailey against the Southern Foundry Co. went to the jury after four days were consumed in the hearing of the testimony and a verdict for the defendant for $732 was rendered this afternoon. Bailey sued for $5,500 damages for failure to deliver iron here for a government contract.

In the case of Bettie J. C. Jones against James Glauber, a verdict for the defendant was returned. She sued for $5,000 damages for personal injuries sustained in slipping down by the livery stable of the latter. Water used in washing buggies had frozen on the pavement and she slipped up on it.

A judgment for about $110 with interest was filed in the case of Adam Temple against T. W. Warfield and others.

County Court.
